Read First:

Advanced Calculus is period 2 for the 2017.2018 school year.

Any questions you may have about any of the assignments will be clarified when we return to school on August 30 and beyond.

Some of the integral calculus questions you will not know how to do as we will study these this year. Some are just new formulas you have not learned that you can google if you want, otherwise, just leave those blank. I will try to remember to send a remind of which integral problems you will not know how to complete and which ones you should be comfortable completing.

There will be a quiz on this material the week after labor day. Stay tuned to any changes via text messages from Remind. Be sure to sign up to the invite that is posted on the welcome page. I will be checking email sporadically this summer, so if you need to send me a message, send it via remind text.

Looking forward to a fun and rewarding year! See everyone in the fall.

Schelley!